PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

DR. KEREM KARACAER

Assalam Alaikum wa Rahmatullah wa Barakatuh

Dear Spectrum Family,

Alhamdulillah, as we transition into December, it is with immense gratitude and pride that we reflect on November's vibrant activities. We celebrated our school's rich diversity during Multicultural Day, fostered a spirit of knowledge and camaraderie through our Hadith Competition with participants from other schools, and launched a counseling booth to further support the well-being of our students. The month also marked the conclusion of the STEAM Fair with a heartwarming prize-giving ceremony recognizing our students' innovative achievements.

December promises to be equally exciting, with final exams, enriching field trips, and a joyful Fun Day planned to end the term on a high note.

We thank our parents for their unwavering support and our students for their hard work and enthusiasm. May Allah (SWT) continue to bless our school community, guiding us toward excellence in every endeavor.

Jazakumullahu khairan for being an integral part of Spectrum International School's journey.

ISLAMIC REMINDER

Doctors Don't Cure, Allah Does

USTADZ SHADY MOHAB

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ وَالصَّلَاةِ وَالسَّلَامِ عَلَى رَسُولِ اللَّهِ

In Islam, it is essential to understand that Allah is the ultimate healer. Doctors, medicines, and even Ruqyah are all means that Allah has allowed them to exist, but they themselves do not have inherent power to cure. They are simply tools or channels through which Allah's will is carried out.

The Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام when he was debating with his people, he reminded them of Allah's supreme power, and he stated: "وَإِذَا مَرِضْتُ فَهُوَ يَشْفِينِي"

"And when I am ill, it is He who heals me." (Surat Ash-Shu'ara:80)

He declared that Allah alone has the power to heal. Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام was emphasising that while his people placed their trust in idols or other false deities, Allah was the only true source of life, healing, and power. He recognised that even in situations where people use means such as medicines or other remedies, it is ultimately Allah who provides the cure.

Imagine two individuals suffering from the same disease. Both go to the same doctor, receive the same treatment, and take the same medicine. If one of them is healed, does it mean that the other will definitely be cured? The answer is no, because Allah's will is the ultimate deciding factor, not the doctor, the medicine, or the treatment itself. This simply means that Allah has allowed them to exist and be effective with the first one only, as the outcome is determined by His will alone.

This concept reinforces the idea that, just like Prophet Ibrahim عليه السلام acknowledged Allah as the source of healing, we too must understand that the means we use—whether doctors, medicines, or Ruqyah—are not cures by themselves. They are tools created by Allah for us to use, but Allah alone has the power to heal.

ISLAMIC REMINDER

Doctors Don't Cure, Allah Does

USTADZ SHADY MOHAB

This is why When the Prophet (ﷺ) visited any ailing member of his family, he would touch the sick person with his right hand and would supplicate:

"اللهم رب الناس، أذهب البأس، واشف، أنت الشافي لا شفاء إلا شفاؤك، شفاء لا يغادر سقماً"

"Allahumma Rabban-nasi, adhibil-ba'sa, washfi, Antash-Shafi, la shifa'a illa shifa'uka, shifaan la yughadiru saqaman

[O Allah! the Rabb of mankind! Remove this disease and cure (him or her)! You are the Curer. There is no cure but through You, which leaves behind no disease]."

[Al-Bukhari and Muslim].

Muslims must take the means that Allah allowed them to exist and be effective, but our hearts must place our trust in Allah as the true source of healing, because the outcome is determined by His will alone.

The Importance of Reading and Benefits for Children

DR. ESSRA MAHMOUD

Assalam Alaikum wa Rahmatullah wa Barakatuh

Exam season is upon us! While exams can be stressful for both students and parents, there are effective ways to support our children and help them perform their best. Here are some tips:

Before the Exam:

- Create a Study Schedule: Help children create a realistic study schedule that balances study time with leisure activities.
- Provide a Conducive Study Environment: Ensure a quiet, well-lit, and distraction-free study space.
- Healthy Diet and Sleep: Encourage a balanced diet and adequate sleep to improve concentration and memory.
- Positive Reinforcement: Offer words of encouragement and support to boost children's confidence.
- Create a Sense of Responsibility: Children should feel that they are responsible for their own learning - Exams are the accumulation of their work all year, not just a few weeks or days before exams.

During the Exam:

- Reassure Children: Remind children of their capabilities and encourage a positive mindset.
- Avoid Excessive Pressure: Refrain from putting undue pressure on children.
- Provide Necessary Support: Offer practical help, such as preparing study materials or transportation.

After the Exam:

- Celebrate Efforts: Acknowledge children's hard work and efforts, regardless of the results.
- Encourage Reflection: Discuss the exam experience and identify areas for improvement.
- Avoid Comparisons: Refrain from comparing children's performance with others.

Remember: Every child is unique, and their needs may vary. Be patient, understanding, and supportive. By working together, we can help our children navigate exam time with confidence and ease.

Let's work together to make this exam season a successful one!

PRIMARY STAGE

WELCOME BACK TO SCHOOL!

Assalamualaikum warahmatullahi wabarakatuh,
Dear Parents and Students,

Alhamdulillah, as we approach the end of this term, we take a moment to reflect on the remarkable events that unfolded in November. From engaging classroom activities to impactful school-wide initiatives, we are immensely grateful for the unwavering support of our parents and the enthusiasm of our students. We warmly congratulate all participants and winners of the Readathon, STEAM Fair, and Spectrum Grassroot Cup Football Tournament, where we celebrated creativity, teamwork, sportsmanship, and athletic excellence. We also eagerly look forward to honoring the winners of our upcoming Hadith Competition.

WHAT'S COMING UP IN DECEMBER?
